How Capricorn Unwinds Capricorn adores to-do lists and may love bullet journaling. To them, its not an administrative task, its a way of making sense of their world. A Capricorn loves feeling accomplished, and for a Capricorn, tackling a DIY home project or complicated cooking project can be a great way for them to let their mind wander. An earth sign, Capricorn loves using their hands, and loves making things. A Capricorn loves being busy and loves a goal to a Capricorn, training for a marathon or triathlon is an ideal way to unwind. Capricorn Social Life Capricorn has a set, small group of friends, and the friends they have now may well be friends they made when they were toddlers. Capricorns truly believe in the power of lifelong friendship, and love having a very small circle of friends they have a long history with, who they trust implicitly. Capricorns tend to prefer doing things one on one or in small groups, and dont love going to parties. Capricorns can be hard to get to know, but once you have one in your inner circle, you have a friend for life. Capricorns are so intense and busy in their lives that they are often happy to spend downtime by themselvestheyre not lonely, theyre recharging. Capricorn Favorite Season Even though their birthdays are in the dead of winter, Capricorns love summer, and love camping, hiking, and spending all night under the stars. Capricorns can be fastidious, and can bring camping to the next level, but being in nature can help tame Capricorns intensity. Capricorns love spending days outside soaking up Vitamin D and will always choose to have a meal outside rather than in if there is any sort of option. The Best Vacations for Capricorn Capricorn loves self-improvement, so any vacation with that element is an A plus in their book. Capricorns are big on wellness retreats, and love the idea of learning a new skill while they are on vacation. A cooking class in the South of France, for example, is a great way for Capricorns to learn while indulgingthe best of both worlds for a Capricorn. Capricorn Power Colors Intelligent, cool, logical and connected to the earth, Capricorn does best with grounding colors that speak to their cool intensity and can help them connect to their rational self. Here, the best colors for Capricorn. Dark blue: A dark blue speaks to Capricorns depth of intelligence, and also speaks to the intensity lying below Capricorns smooth surface. While Capricorn seems placid and in control, like the ocean, theres a lot swirling just out of view. White: Caps see the world in black and white and strive for perfection. White is a great color to speak to Capricorns constant push to be the best. Brown: An earth sign, Caps can wear brown like no other sign can, and can truly bring out the beauty and intensity of all brown shades, while the color can help ground a Cap. Green: Another earthy color, Capricorns like this shade to help ground them and keep their feet on the ground, especially when life around them seems crazy and unstable. The colors that Capricorn should avoid are: Red: Red can be too intense for the practical, low-key vibe Capricorn tries to espouse. Gold: Caps dont love glitter, and may feel showy and overpowered in metallic shades. Orange: Similar to red, orange can be too overpowering and excite Capricorn, instead of calming them down and allowing them to play to their strengths of logic and perseverance. They are in it for the long haul, and know the best relationships have storms. Its not as if they are fatalisticbut Capricorn's love is realistic and they arent going to have a rosy view of romance. That said, Capricorns are expansive and generous in love, and adore being wined and dined. They love the formality of early dating, and may be quite strict about following "the rules" of romanceeven if those rules are made up. Typically, they may follow gender norms of dating, expecting the man to call first and the man to pay on the first date, but Capricorn isnt strict, and is always willing to consider another path or another way. Capricorns can be regimented, and love having a specific night of the week for date night. Capricorns thrive on routine, and may love staying at home on weekends, under the covers, with nothing but them and their lover. Capricorns love spending time only with their lover, especially in the early stages of a relationship, which can be frustrating to their friends and family. Capricorns are serious monogamists, and although they can be cautious in every other aspect of their lives, they are the sign who is likely to fall deeply in love with someone, and its not unusual for a Capricorn to get married after only several months of dating. They know their hearts well, and dont hesitate to lock things down when they know that the relationship is right. And their instincts are on point!a Capricorn stay in relationships for the long haul. They arent afraid of therapy if their relationship needs help, and approach problems as a bump in the road, capable of fixing with honesty, trust, and hard work from both partners. These two earth signs are also passionate within the confines of their relationshipthey may not have earth-shattering first date sex, but will have incredible sex for decades to come. These two signs understand each other deeply and share the same life goals and values. When it comes to priorities, Capricorn and Taurus hold security and financial matters at the top of their list. They bring out the best in each other, and with Taurus so devoted and Capricorn so loyal, you can be confident in a lasting relationship. Virgo: Serious, loyal, and committed, these two signs are all about passion in predictability. Whats wrong with a standing Saturday date night if it leads to explosive sex later, guaranteed? These two signs result in an earthy, solid bond filled with respect and long-term commitment. Logic and common sense are hard at work in a Capricorn-Virgo relationship, and both are smart with it comes to money, kids, and life at home. Rationally plays a key role in their relationship, and while they dont let their emotions get the better of them, sensibility may stiffen passion. Pisces: Dreamy Pisces can help Capricorn learn to love their imagination, and Capricorn can help Pisces get their heads out of the clouds and back to reality. There is never a dull moment with these two signs, and their commitment and love to each other ensures they stay together. A Capricorn-Pisces relationship often begins as a friendship. It may take a while for Capricorn to understand and accept Pisces sometimes lazy, lackadaisical ways, but Pisces doesnt always quickly warm to Capricorns tendency to shut them out, either. But with a mutual agreement, these two can take time for each other and establish a prosperous relationship. Want to know more about your love matches? Check every zodiac sign's love compatibility. Favorite Date Nights for Capricorn Wine date for two, please. Capricorn likes to keep it classic and classy, and expects a first date to dress up and pull out the charm. A Capricorn is turned off by lack of plans, and showing up for a date with dirty sneakers and a "I guess we could go here" attitude turns them off. Capricorns love old school glamour, and love going to elegant cocktail barsbonus if theres a piano player in the corner. As a Capricorn gets more comfortable with their partner, they may prefer to stay at home on date nights. They tend to love cooking, and a well-made meal, a bottle of wine, and a movie can be the perfect night for Capricorn. And while Capricorn thrive in a routine, it may be helpful for a partner to help bring them out of their shells and shake things up a bit. Capricorns are so detail-oriented and on top of every other aspect of their lives that its a true treat for them to take the backseat, and allow their partner to do all the planning. Setting up reservations, so all they have to do is show up, is one small action that can make a Capricorn feel deeply cared for and cherished. The Deal with Capricorn and Fire Signs Its common for earth sign Capricorn to become downright obsessed with fire signsthe sign they arent supposed to go for. So why the attraction, and can it ever work? Fire signs (Aries, Leo, Sagittarius) speak to Capricorns deep need for excitement. Capricorn is fascinated with the unknown, and wants to tame things that are wild. Capricorn sees a fire sign as a challenge, and may want to subdue them to become their perfect partner. Capricorn is also entranced by the unpredictability of a fire signs approach to life. There is never a dull moment, and this can be pretty enticing for Capricorn, who always has their life planned and mapped out for the future. But despite the initial attraction, there are, well, sparks! Fire signs feel stifled by Capricorns need to know every move; Capricorns are driven crazy by the fact that they just cant seem to know what the fire sign will do next. So, can this match ever work? In short, yes! The trick is for each sign to give each other space to breathe, space to do their thing, and find compromise in the middle. Caps can be spontaneous, and fire signs can hold a standing Thursday date. Meeting in the middle is a sign of caring. Both sign pairs also value respect above all else, so if the two signs are too different to be a match, both parties will come to that understanding sooner rather than later. If both can put aside pride and elevate mutual admiration, they may even be able to remain friends long after the romance has faded. How to Seduce a Capricorn Save the big moves for a fire sign. A Capricorn wants to see steadiness from a potential partner, and being there when you say you will be goes far in a Capricorns book to prove your loyalty. They love being wined and dined, but within reasontake them to a five-star restaurant, dont book a first class ticket to a five star restaurant in another country if youve only just met. Be slow and steady, and recognize that they may need space and time to allow you into their lives. Their life is well-crafted and curated long before they met you, and for a Capricorn, its not that easy to just have you tag along to parties with friends. It takes time for them to allow you into their inner circle and life, and realizing this can be helpful in learning how to hold back. Here, three more ways to seduce a Capricorn. Know your time: In general, Capricorns arent big drinkers, but they do appreciate knowledge of wine. Knowing your labels, or learning different types of wine together, by going to a wine-tasting can be a huge turn-on to a Cap. Build them a chair: Earth sign Caps love DIY, and are obsessed with people who make things with their hands. They appreciate the hard work that goes into craftsmanship, so making somethingor offering to fix or repair something in their housegoes a long way. Have a life: Success is an aphrodisiac to a Capricorn, and they love seeing you working hard and building a successful life. The busier you are, the more impressed theyll be. How to Make Love to a Capricorn Capricorn may have a reputation as being buttoned up, but that isnt entirely true. Capricorns are slow to warm up, and they prefer having an emotional connection to their partners. They love slow burn sex, where flirty texts, plenty of time to shower solo, and a long dinner with plenty of compliments lead up to time in the bedroom together. Capricorn is a generous lover, and expects the favor to be reciprocated. They love having a lover spend hours savoring every inch of their body, and feels like lovemaking is a gift to be savored. They arent huge fans of quickie sex, but will do so to keep the connection alive. As earth signs, physicality is very important to Capricorns, and regular sex is a key part of their connection to their partner. Capricorn isnt a huge fan of new toys or positions, and prefers to stick to tried and true. That said, they have a "why not" philosophy, and their curiosity may lead them to trying new things, especially if its something their partner wants to try. And while sex is serious to a Capricorn, they also appreciate the silly side, and giggling in bed is one of their favorite things. After all, sex is one of the ways a Capricorn lets off steam, and they like a no-holds-barred bedroom where emotions of all forms can run rampant. If You Love a Capricorn Woman Be your best self. A Capricorn woman loves to see a partner who is continually striving to be the best person they can be, and waxes their partner to also push them. If you date a Capricorn woman, know she doesnt "need" you, and when she chooses to spend time with you, she has plenty of other things she could have done. Do not take a Capricorn womans time for granted! If you love a Capricorn woman, its important to know she relishes periods of time by herself, even when she is madly in love with you. She needs downtime in order to be her best self. Be aware that she may approach your relationship like a job, but that doesnt mean that its a drag to herit just means that checklists, performance reviews (aka "state of the union addresses") and consistent communication are the ways she approaches everything, even relationships. Learning to speak frankly about what could be better in your relationship truly can make it the best it can be. How to Communicate with a Capricorn Woman Be honest and be direct. Capricorn women may have a reputation as being unemotional, thats not the truth, though. Capricorn women have a deep wealth and reservoir of emotion, but they tend to work best with logistics and rationality. They want to hear facts, and they may not want a long drawn out period of hashing out emotions. Capricorn thrives on compliments, and regular I love yous are important for Capricorn to hear. They also love traditions and small ways for you to show your love. Capricorn is so used to taking charge and being in control that they adore when their partner takes that work on the home front. Capricorn likes when a home runs smoothly and not being tidy or not cooking dinner when you say you will may be seen as a personal affront by a Capricorn. If You Love a Capricorn Man A Capricorn man may seem pretty straightforward, but he has a lot of layersif youre lucky enough to uncover them. Its important to learn his love language and coach him on yoursa Capricorn man will want to learn, but may need some help knowing how he can support you. For example, a Capricorn man is often focused on fixing things. If you complain about an issue at work, he may seem like he isnt on your side, but hes really just seeing the issue from a logical point of view and trying to troubleshoot. Letting him know that sometimes you dont need a "fix," you just need a shoulder to cry on can be helpful. And let him let you take care of him. A Capricorn man wants to be in control and be the provider, and he can be, but lets draw a bath, planing a weekend away, or otherwise taking control can be incredibly welcome for a Capricorn man. Finally, dont tell a Capricorn man what to do. Should he be working 80 hours a week? Probably not, but nagging does nothing. Far better is to recognize that Caps are sometimes obsessive about projects, but their interest usually fluctuates, and he will soon have 80 hours a week for you. How to Communicate with a Capricorn Man Its important to be direct with a Capricorn manthey wont pick up on subtlety or passive-aggressive behavior. If youre unhappy with them, tell them, and they will do their best to fix it. Its also important to keep the focus on the futurehehe Cap guys can be sentimental, and love a trip down memory lane and playing the "remember when" game, a Capricorn man doesnt like when old fights are brought back up, and dont have a lot of patience for grudges. They love working on a project togetheralways having a goal or project, from running a half marathon together to getting better in the kitchencan make you both closer. Should You Marry a Capricorn? Yes! Loyal, honest, and committed to family and partnership, a Capricorn can help you be your best self, while creating a comfortable home that you both will love. A Capricorn loves those closest to them, and may be working incredibly hardbut only because they want to make a comfortable home for their family. A Capricorn considers you both a team, and will do anything for you. A Capricorn prizes romance, and can create an unbreakable bond for decades to come. Signs That a Capricorn is Playing for Keeps Capricorn may seem aloof, and may play their cards close to their chest. It may take awhile for them to say "I love you," and a decision to move in together can be made maddening with spreadsheets, bank account statements, and other ephemera to try to justify the choice as an economic one. Here, three signs that a Capricorn is serious about a relationship. They stop paying you back. Caps are all about fairness, and will work steadily toward building a successful long-term, committed relationship.Both enjoy safety and security that a long-termandloyal relationship brings. Problems can arise when either one becomes closedoff, as neither is particularly good atgetting the other to open up. Being more understanding and empathetic to what the other might be going throughis a good goal for this pair.As twoearth signs, there is a good amount of logic and common sense at work in this relationship. They wont make any hasty decisions, and botharesmart when it comes to finances, children, and home matters. They wont let their emotions get the best of them, but their sensibility can also be a negative factor. They will have to work hard to find and maintain the passion in their relationships well as learn to laugh at their mistakes and not take things too seriously.Love CompatibilityZodiac love compatibility is complex...Find out whether you and your partner are a perfect match!Virgo is ruled by perceptive Mercury, which means theyre always on their toes. Capricorn is ruled by hardworking Saturn, so they arent afraid to get their hands dirty and really dig in when it comes to getting things done. They are both highly discriminating, although Capricorns goal is more to obtain things for status, and Virgo simply wants the satisfaction of feeling good about a job well done. Virgo is very health-conscious and can influence Capricorn to pay more attention to how their workaholic ways might be affecting them. Capricorn responds well to leaning new ways to be effective and organized, and in turn, can teach Virgo to lighten up on their downtime. (Not everyone knows that Capricorn has a wicked sense of humorespecially when it comes to sarcasm.)Virgo is amutable sign, so they dont have trouble adapting to any given situation. As cardinal sign, Capricorn likes to be the leader, so they work well in any leader-follower situation.Virgo is happy to take a backseat when Capricorn is in the mood to dictate therapies andcan be an excellent support system when Capricorn needs someone to fill that role. Capricorn loves to initiate new things, but when theshine wears off of new projects, Virgo is there to pick up the pieces and finish what Capricorn never did.Romantically, this relationship isnt full of sparks, but their totaldedication to each other can spill happily into the bedroom.It takes time for both partners to trust the other, but once that happens,sex becomes extremely fulfilling.Things will most likely heat up mentally before they do physically.Capricorn will want to take the lead most of the time andwillwant to be the bestexperiencetheir partner has ever had. Virgo appreciatesCapricorns efforts more thanmost andwill strive to be more inventive to help them take things to new heights. Capricorn Ailments: Knee pain is common; ACL injuries can often be seen in Capricorns. In addition, Capricorns show their stress on their skin, and breakouts, eczema, and rashes are unfortunately all too common. Capricorn Strengths: Sheer force of will. Capricorns will not accept physical limitations, and often drive their doctors crazy by not following. Capricorn Weaknesses: Capricorns can sometimes get annoyed at their body, and may need to really learn how to focus on tuning into their body and what it needs. Mind-body awareness can help keep certain physical ailments at bay, and more importantly, can help Caps catch a problem before it becomes a major issue. About Those Capricorn Skin Flare Ups Capricorns have a ton of skin products, can recommend them to others better than any employee at a makeup counter, and can have complicated clinical discussions with their dermatologists, but they also seem to struggle with flare ups, despite their knowledge and skincare routine. What gives? Why do Capricorns have skin issues? The answer lies in the mind-body connection, or lack of it. Capricorns are experts at keeping their emotions to themselves, but they have to come out somewhere, and its often via the skin. In addition, Capricorns can stress themselves, and their skin, out. Capricorns are such creatures of habit that small deviations, like eating a different selection of food than theyre used to, can cause skin eruptions. Capricorns should stick to what works, routine wise, and working with a dermatologist and recognizing triggers, including emotional ones, can help Caps stay on top of any skin issues that may come up in their lives. The Top 10 Ways Capricorn Beats the Blues Capricorns can get frustrated when life isnt going their way. They can be optimistic, but hate when their emotionsbad or googet the best of them. Here, how Capricorns beat the blues and get out of whatever mood is getting them down. Read a book. Caps love engaging their minds, and find that often helps them escape any low mood. Talk to family. For Caps, family is everything, and talking to their relatives is one way to remind them that they have a ton of people who have their back. Declutter. Caps hate clutter. Going through the closet with a garbage bag and a donation stop in mind can help elevate the mood of a Capricorn like nothing else. Cook. Earthy Caps love touching and smelling ingredients, and getting busy in the kitchen helps them beat a bad mood. Take a bath. Caps dont do this enough! A bath isnt an indulgence, its a necessity, and doing so can help Caps clear their mental clutter. Redecorate. Caps are deeply affected by their home environment, and often, cleaning and rearranging their house can help them emerge in a better mood. Take a yoga class. Confession: Caps tend to hate the first few yoga classes they attend, but the more they keep going, the more they find it helpful for their mind and body. Get a cup of coffee. Caps thrive on caffeine, and also love the ritual of going to a coffee shop. Elevate the experience and make it a treat by ordering a latte or mocha instead of your usual cup of joe. Head to a museum. Caps appreciate art, and walking around a museumpreferably solocan help shift their perspective. Volunteer. Deeply conscientious Caps have a strong social justice streak, and volunteering is a great way for them to help remember the world exists beyond their routines and to-do lists. Healing Herbs for Capricorns moods: These are the best herbs for Capricorn, and can help them focus on the best parts of themselves. rosemary: Not only can this herb help soothe aching joints, it can also give mental clarity to Capricorns. tarragon: Caps sometimes feel their brain spinning, especially when its time to go to sleep. Tarragon can help them calm down and get some much needed rest. marjoram: This spice can help a Cap snap out of a bad mood and can help them continually see the bright side and remember that tomorrow is always another day. chamomile: Like tarragon, chamomile can help calm the overactive mind of a Capricorn. In addition, chamomile is an anti-inflammatory, which is very important to sporty Caps.

Can capricorns keep secrets.
