

I'm human

Daft management 11th edition

Richard L. Daft is a renowned professor at Vanderbilt University's Owen Graduate School of Management, where he focuses on leadership and organization theory. As a Fellow of the Academy of Management, Dr. Daft has published numerous books and articles in top-tier journals, including Administrative Science Quarterly, Journal of Management Education, and Organization Science. He has also received government grants for his research on organization design, innovation, and change. A respected consultant and teacher, Dr. Daft has worked with prominent organizations such as AutoZone, Nortel, and the US Air Force. Dr. Marcic has had a distinguished career, serving on various boards and publishing extensively on organizational behavior, international management, and women's roles in organizations. Her book "Managing with the Wisdom of Love" was highly rated, and she has authored numerous articles for top publications. She has conducted seminars and consulted executives, while also creating successful musicals like "Respect" and a true-crime book that became a popular podcast. Dr. Marcic is now contributing to the field of management through her book "Understanding Management".

Daft management (14th edition). Daft management. Management 11th edition daft. Daft 2003 management. Daft r. management.